Description

Description: Istria County is known as one of the most suitable regions for living, and offers many natural beauties backed by a warm Mediterranean climate and a very cordial domicile population. In the very south of the Istrian peninsula is a small ancient Roman town called Pula. Pula is rich in its heritage and ancient Roman infrastructures and legacies that give it a special atmosphere while enjoying this beautiful city, which has gradually become one of the leading tourist destinations in Croatia in the last ten years. This beautiful land of 1134 m² rectangular shape is located in the immediate vicinity of Pula within the settlement of Banjole. The land is located in a very nice location close to all amenities, has a neat access road to the same, purpose T2, which allows the future owner to build a luxury holiday villa in a great location. The infrastructure is also located not far from the land, and is also flat and does not require major landscaping work other than mowing the grass as seen in the pictures. The land is only 450 meters away from the nearest beach in a non-busy part of the village. This land is a unique property in terms of location, layout and price and provides a great opportunity for future buyers to build a building and enjoy it in terms of family life, as well as engaging in catering rental and quick return on investment.
