Description

Description: Rovinjsko selo is today a suburb of Rovinj and from its hills you will see the > silhouette of Rovinj in all its beauty for the first time. A place filled with old stone houses, fields, vineyards and the greenery of the surrounding forests. A place ideal for escaping from the busy everyday life of the city, where you will find everything you need for a quiet and comfortable vacation or family life. The village of Rovinj is becoming an increasingly popular destination, it is especially attractive for cyclists and lovers of walks, forest roads connect it with the Lim channel (north), the ornithological reserve Palud (south), as well as the very center of Rovinj. Right in Rovinjsko village there is a building plot of 1660 m2 with a conceptual project of a residential and commercial building. Due to the short distance from Rovinj, which is connected by a fast road, the plot of land with the conceptual project represents a unique real estate and offers a handful of possibilities to the future buyer in terms of building a facility for renting out catering activities and a very quick return on investment or building a facility in a very nice location for everyday life. ID CODE: IS1506922
