Description

Description:	Pula, a city in the southwestern part of the Istrian peninsula, is located in a well-protected bay and is rich in indented coasts of surrounding towns. The city has a long tradition of winemaking, tourism, and fishing, and it has also been a cultural center since Roman times. It is known for numerous city tunnels, sports activities in an oasis of greenery, sea attractions, summer concerts and the hustle and bustle of warm days. In the immediate vicinity of the center is this building plot of 640 m² with an additional 130 m² of access road. It has a regular shape, about 20 meters from the paved road. Located in a populated part of the city, within walking distance of shops, pharmacies and public transport. The location of the property is great for family life in a quiet part of the city with close proximity to all facilities or investment in tourism not far from the bustle and attractions of Pula.
