toilet, kitchen with dining room and living room, from which there is an exit to the covered terrace with outdoor dining and kitchen and the beach of the overflow pool with salt water and a shallow water area, total surface area 36m². The garden and the entire yard will be fenced and landscaped with lawn and Mediterranean plants with automatic irrigation. The first floor of the villa would contain two more bedrooms with attached bathrooms and access to the Zajenica terrace. In a modern style with Mediterranean elements, on the edge of the construction zone, surrounded by vacation homes, it offers peace and intimacy to its future owners. Furnishing with high-quality materials as well as modern smart home technology is planned (electric blinds, central light switch, video surveillance and alarm). Installation of the first phase of the heat pump, air conditioning, underfloor heating and pool heating is planned. As the property is currently in the construction phase, you as the future owner can participate in the selection of floor coverings, walls and facade, as well as other additional features. The property is secluded and is truly the perfect combination of peace and a quick return to the hustle and bustle of content. An opportunity for every lover of untouched nature or an investment with a quick return on invested funds! Fascinating heritage, authentic way of life, top-quality food are only part of the spectrum of what the east coast of the Istrian peninsula has to offer. At 320m above sea level above the traditional tourist destination of Rabac, the medieval town of Labin is located. The spectrum of what is offered, regardless of whether you are in the spirit of exploration or looking for an oasis for a real vacation, this small town near the city center will provide you with a peaceful haven.
