Description

Description: ISTRIA, PAZIN - Attractive spacious plot in the heart of Istria! Pazin is the administrative seat of the County of Istria, and even in the 19th century, mostly due to its central position on the peninsula, as well as its importance, it earned the name "heart of Istria". The fascinating picture of the medieval Pazin fortress - Kaštela, located above the 130-meter deep chasm where the Pazinčica River flows into the Pazin Cave, inspired the famous French writer Jules Verne to place part of the plot of his novel "Mathias Sandorf", published in 1885, in this very environment. . Today, Pazinski Kaštel is reputed to be the best-preserved medieval fortress in central Istria, and the oldest preserved written trace of the existence of the Kaštel can be found in the confirmation grant of Otto II. from June 7, 983, in which it bears the name Castrum Pisinum. Today, the city of Pazin consists of a total of 18 settlements. Not far from Pazin in the village of Lindar, in the very heart of Istria, we offer construction and tourist land T-1, T-2, T-3, with an area of 16,947 m². It consists of two cadastral parcels, but there is a possibility of buying each land separately. The plots are 6,143 m² and 10,804 m², which makes a total area of 16,947 m², the plots are sold at a total price of €50 per m². Due to its size and peaceful location, the property is ideal for the construction of hotels, villas or holiday homes with accompanying facilities compatible with the basic tourist purpose, such as: parking lots, recreation areas (various playgrounds, indoor and outdoor swimming pools, etc.) necessary facilities for health tourism, entertainment, hospitality, shopping facilities and the like. The maximum allowed number of building floors is Po+P+1+Pk (one underground + three above-ground floors). DIRECT CONTACT WITH THE AGENT: Agent: Nikola B.
