Part of the terrain is flat, and the greater part is on cascades. The property is spread over several plots, the greater part of which is in one unit. It is a complex of construction and mostly agricultural land. From the paved road to the property, there is a 250-meter macadam road, followed by a 400-meter forest road. The first neighbors are about 5 km away. The forest part hides old olive varieties that further enrich this property and add value to it. Along the entire property there are numerous sources of drinking water and a stream that creates harmony in the setting with untouched nature. The view itself stretches over the Raša river valley and the picturesque hills that adorn Istria. There is a possibility to purchase additional plots of land with an area of 33,000 m². The property is located far from the noise of the city and is the right place for lovers of peace and quiet. This is a real investment for lovers of coexistence with nature and all its benefits.
