Description

Description:	ISTRIA, CEROVLJE - Stone house with a panoramic view Cerovlje is the central settlement of the spacious municipality of the same name, which stretches across the hilly landscape northeast of Pazin, and includes numerous hamlets and several larger rural settlements and covers an area of 107 km ² . In this municipality there is the longest cave in Istria, an olive grove at the highest altitude and two castles, the Pazinčica flows through it, and along the valley of the river there is a railway, then a road and finally a highway. In this landscape of fairy-tale views, a stone house with a panoramic view is for sale. The autochthonous Istrian house is located on the edge of a picturesque stone village and offers complete peace and privacy. The house has a floor plan of approx. 40 m² extends through the ground floor, first floor, second floor and attic. The house has an electricity connection and a water connection is located next to the building. Next to the house there is a garage with a floor plan area of approx. 33 m² and an auxiliary building with a floor plan area of approx. 43 m². The stone lady and the accompanying buildings require restoration in order to shine in their full glory. Yard of approx. 385 m² is maintained and offers a panoramic view of the velvety hills and the surrounding area. Agricultural land with an area of 3.014 m² is 600 meters from the building. The combination of lush greenery and traditional Istrian architecture makes this property ideal for lovers of stone antiquities and nature with great potential for a peaceful family life or a lucrative rental business.
