Description

Description:	Gračišće is the center of the municipality of the same name in an area of about 1500 inhabitants. The preserved landscape has encouraged several households to start engaging in rural tourism, and the traditional commitment to wine production has degenerated into an already traditional annual exhibition. The beauty and uniqueness of cultural and historical heritage monuments in the preserved landscape are the greatest value of Gračišće, which is visited by more and more curious people every day, not only at the Wine Festival of Central Istria, Vidovo or the Festival of Accordion Players, but also by enthusiasts. the ancient city is fed with serenity. One of the striking features of Gračišće is its urban structure: the division of the once walled city into quarters, and each of them has its own square with a church. In Gračišće, on the square itself, a house is for sale, which spreads over four floors with a total area of 568 m<sup>2</sup>, 142 m<sup>2</sup> per floor. The old autochthonous, stone, Istrian house dates back to around 1556. On the ground floor there is an entrance with a large spacious hallway from which there is an exit to the back yard. The ground floor also has a renovated bathroom and a staircase leading to the upper floors. The first floor consists of four spacious rooms, two large hallways and a toilet. The second floor consists of five spacious rooms, two hallways and also a small toilet. The attic also has a total area of 142 m2. The building has a large yard behind the house, which is surrounded by an Istrian dry stone wall and has a separate entrance from the main road and the second entrance through the hallway. The house needs a complete renovation and is suitable for conversion into a hotel or a facility of similar purpose.
