Description

Description: Istria, Galižana - Detached house in a quiet settlement Galižana is a small, quiet and family-friendly place located just a few minutes' drive from the largest Istrian city of Pula. A detached house ideal for family life, with its own garden and plot, is for sale in this very area. The house consists of the ground floor and the first floor, of which the floor is unfinished and in the Rohbau phase. The total size of the land with the house is 843m², of which the house has 180m² and the garden

563m2. On the ground floor of the house there is an entrance hall, kitchen and dining room, living room, two bedrooms and the entrance to a large garage. The advantages of the garage are that it is possible to convert the space into another smaller apartment or apartment. The first floor of the house is unfinished and in the roh-bau phase. On the first floor, there is the possibility of organizing the rooms in the same way as on the ground floor, which would create another separate apartment with its own entrance. Around the house there is a beautiful yard with a driveway for cars, where there is an olive grove with several dozen planted olive trees, and a small garden with several fruit trees. The house needs refreshing and renovation, but it can potentially be used for family living as well as rental services. Precisely because of the specificity of the separate entrances for the ground floor and first floor, the house can be used for both purposes. The heating is electric, and the additional spaces include a balcony, garage, attic and garden. As for the basic infrastructure, the house uses city electricity, water and sewage.
