BRSEČ: The medieval spirit of the town, with its alleys and passageways, has been preserved to this day. Most of the town houses were built in the 17th century, while the walls, fortifications and the church bell tower itself belong to the early Middle Ages. Kaštel, the old core around which the settlement later developed, also dates from an earlier period. The houses are a typical example of coastal architecture, and on some of them inscriptions in Glagoljica are still visible today. Brseč also has its olive mill from the 17th century - toš. During that period, Brse parish priest Josip Mavrović had the Masunerije building built, a residential building with numerous rooms, utility rooms and a loggia, and the parish church was renovated. The town hall is on the central square of the old town, and an integral part of it is the Brse school, built in 1868. We list only the more important sacral buildings of Brsec parish: Parish Church of St. George, Church of St. Cross, Church of St. Magdalene, Church of St. Stjepan at the Brse cemetery, and the village and Church of St. Jelena and essentially the Chapel of St. Nikola in Golovik. In the city lodge, at the entrance to the old town, there is a bust of the famous Eugen Kumičić, Croatian writer and politician. He was born in Brseč, where his birthplace is also located, today converted into a library and the very impressive gallery "Eugen K" where eminent Croatian and foreign artists are exhibited. An unforgettable view is offered from the cliff near the small Church of St. Magdalene. Accommodation in Brseč and nearby the surroundings can be found in private rooms and apartments. OPATIJA: Opatija, a beautiful coastal city for tourists from all over the world. The city is surrounded by beautiful nature, at the foot of the Učka mountain to the sea and the surrounding islands of Krk and Cres. Opatija is surrounded by charming small towns located in narrow streets rich in history. The streets of Opatija are characterized by specific architecture and villas dating back to the Habsburg period. A large selection of beaches, crystal clear sea and various tourist services are the key factors that make Opatija a perfect tourist destination recognized by neighboring countries as an excellent investment choice. Real estate prices in this area are rising, rental occupancy is excellent, which has resulted in a return on investment of 5% to 10% and attracting foreign investors.
