Description

Description: Vodnjan building plot with sea view Vodnjan building land with sea view We have a building land for sale, surface area 3563 m². The access road is from Alfalt, all infrastructure is in the immediate vicinity. This rectangular plot with a gentle slope offers an extraordinary opportunity for the construction of holiday villas with a view of the sea of the Brijuni Islands. The documentation is in order. Vodnjan-Dignano, a small town in the southwest of Istria, 11.7 km from Pula, at 135 meters above sea level, is an area of old traditions created on the traces of prehistoric fortifications. Its wide area with countless characteristic kažuns, built in the dry-wall technique, which denoted ownership, is a witness of the millennia in which the inhabitants engaged in agriculture, especially olive growing and viticulture. In the historic core, the city has preserved its medieval appearance with towers and narrow streets that meander irregularly between houses, with cobblestones and facades made of dressed stone, old streets with still recognizable Gothic-Venetian, Renaissance and Baroque styles, and numerous churches. If you are looking for a quiet location, surrounded by greenery and olive trees, this is for you. Call us!
