completely located within the construction area, which provides additional opportunities for expansion or additional projects. The house has a total of 110 m² of living space spread over two floors, connected by internal wooden stairs that have been renovated in a traditional style. On the mezzanine floor there is a large bathroom with a separate toilet and a spacious hallway, which adds to the functionality of the space. First Floor: On the first floor there are three large bedrooms, each radiating warmth and comfort, ideal for relaxing after a long day. Ground floor: The ground floor of the house contains a kitchen and a dining room combined into a single space, which allows for pleasant socializing and shared meals. A spacious living room and a large hallway contribute to the feeling of spaciousness. There is also a shed for extra storage space. The interior of the house was renovated in 2016, where all key elements of traditional Istrian construction were preserved and restored. Stone and wood dominate the interior, creating an authentic and warm ambience. The yard is a real oasis of peace, surrounded by greenery and various fruit trees such as vines and pears. The spacious outdoor stone terrace, surrounded by a stone wall and shaded by century-old deciduous trees and a vine pergola, is an ideal place to relax and enjoy nature. On the other side of the house there is a separate garage, a stone house with a fireplace, perfect for traditional cooking, and a large cistern (water tank) for collecting rainwater. The yard is surrounded by a stone wall, partly from the time when the house was built, which further emphasizes the historical value of this property. The house is located in the center of the town, only 5 km from Labin and 10 km from the beaches in Rabac, which provides a perfect balance between a quiet life in a small town and proximity to larger urban centers and beautiful Adriatic beaches. The property is completely tidy, and the house is sold with the entire garden. The property is in usable condition, fully habitable and is sold with furniture, which enables immediate occupancy without additional investments. This unique stone house represents a perfect combination of history, tradition and modern comfort, providing an ideal place for living or vacationing in beautiful Istria.
