It was 1100 on the island of Krk. the baptismal certificate of the Croats - Baška tablet was created. The island of Krk is connected with the number seven: in the seventh century it was inhabited by Croats, seven times successfully defended against pirates, the seventh Frankopan was the last prince of Krk, today the island has seven main centers. At the height of their power, the Franks owned a territory equal to half of today's Croatia. On the island of Krk there is healing mud, more precisely on the west side of the bay Klimno. The beach is shallow and suitable for families with children. It is interesting that the beach can be walked a hundred meters, and the sea is still knee-deep! It is a favorite among young people precisely because of that. It offers the possibility of good fun... from picigin on the sea to beach volleyball. Namely, there are two volleyball courts on the beach, as well as a football field. Many are happy with the effect of the healing mud on their own skin, so they are happy to come back again. It is this medicinal mud that is especially used to treat gout. The ornithological reserve (the island of Prvić and the northeastern steep part of the coast of the island of Krk) is the northernmost habitat of griffon vultures in the coastal belt. Griffon vultures are a rare species of our fauna, they reach sexual maturity only in the fifth or sixth year of life, and the female lays barely one to two eggs ID CODE: 10238
