Description

Description:

The seaside stone house is located in the suburbs of the picturesque town of Hreljin, a suburb of the town of Bakra, on a hill. The house is located on cadastral parcels with a total area of 768 m², of which one parcel still has a house marked on it (a ruin) and can be used as a new building parcel for a family house, and currently it is in the role of a large parking lot at the back of the house. The complete garden is fenced and landscaped. The house is oriented to the south, at the entrance there is a terrace with an old barn that is still in use. On the ground floor there is an entrance hall with a staircase, a spacious bathroom, a living room, a kitchen and a large bedroom. The high attic consists of two large bedrooms with a view of Krk and the entire Kvarner, and storage in the used low parts of the roof. In the basement of the house there is a tavern with a floor plan area of 25 m², connected by an external staircase and furnished terraces. The house was adapted and a new roof was built in 2015. The house is furnished, ready to move in and equipped with all amenities for a comfortable life, including central heating, electricity, telephone, cable television and internet. Parking spaces are provided in the garden, and the garden of 686 m² has approx. 300 m² of landscaped garden, summer kitchen, barbecue, tavern and boiler room. All important amenities are nearby, such as a school, kindergarten, post office, shop, church, park, playground, football field, pharmacy, doctor and public transport. Don't miss the opportunity to buy this beautiful seaside stone house in a peaceful environment! ID CODE: 916
