an entrance hall, a bathroom and a bedroom (or study). The house has a total of two terraces and three balconies, a panoramic view of the entire Kvarner, it is located in a quiet street without much traffic. The heating is air-conditioned, but it has preparation for central heating, two chimneys. The floors have laminate (underneath which is parquet). The town of Kastav with Kastavština is synonymous with rich history, geographical diversity, interesting architecture and a unique tourist offer! Located "over the sea, canoe soko", as the poet says, similar to all coastal towns, yet different; with a soul in a stone nest, wide enough for all who are ready to experience it in its entirety. Like many cities at the meeting point of Central Europe and the Mediterranean, Kastav has a rich tradition and a recognizable identity. During its history, Kastav was the administrative, economic and cultural center of Istria and the Primorje; it was and remains a nursery of the people's consciousness, so even when cities much larger than it today began to develop in the surrounding area, it managed to preserve its autonomy, language and customs.
