Description

Description: Viškovo, a large construction site. We are selling a building plot with an area of 1285 square meters. Spacious land ideal for various types of construction. It is located right next to the road in a quiet street where there are only family houses.

Connection to the water supply, electricity and telecommunication network is easily accessible, since the aforementioned infrastructure passes right next to the field. Connection to city gas is also available at the location. Its size offers enough space for the construction of residential, commercial or mixed buildings. The grounds are large enough to allow for creative planning of facility layouts, including spacious yard areas, green areas or parking spaces. This surface also allows flexibility in design and can meet different architectural and urban requirements. Considering the square footage, the land offers an excellent opportunity for the realization of ambitious construction projects. The future owner has the option of purchasing an additional building plot of 576 square meters located right next to the field. Viškovo is located near the city of Rijeka, ideal for family life without the stress and hustle and bustle of a big city. This municipality offers all the necessary facilities for a comfortable life: schools, kindergartens, clinics and various shops, which allows residents to meet their daily needs without the need for long journeys. The developed transport infrastructure makes Viškovo easily accessible, providing a quick connection to Rijeka and other important destinations in the area. We are happy to provide any additional information about the property. ID CODE: 2009-12
