Description

Description: Istria, Duga Uvala, Pavićini A small functional house in a weekend resort, with a view of the forest and within walking distance of the sea. The house has 46m2 + terrace about 12m2. It consists of a bedroom, a living room connected to the kitchen and a newly renovated bathroom. The house has brand new solar panels that provide electricity for the lights, refrigerator, TV, sockets, etc. The battery for the panels is new, bought last year and comes with the house. The price includes an additional gas refrigerator. The boiler is gas, as is the heater and stove in the kitchen. The house has 2 water tanks of 1,000 liters each (2,000 in total) and organized water supply to the tanks as needed. Water is in pipes in the bathroom, kitchen and garden. Access to the sea is on foot through the forest or by car and the main road for a few minutes. The house has its own parking lot in front as well as a small garden with herbs. This house is ideal for anyone who wants peace and quiet, close to the sea and low maintenance costs, because the house functions completely separately and is, so to speak, self-sustaining.
