Description

Description: Svetvinčenat, or as it is locally called Savičenta, is a picturesque village located in central Istria, known for its rich history and cultural heritage. This small place is surrounded by beautiful landscapes, vineyards and olive groves, and the heart of the settlement is the magnificent Renaissance castle Morosini-Grimani from the 16th century. This castle, together with Trg Placa and the Church of St. Vincent, is the main attraction that attracts visitors from all over the world. Svetvinčenat is about 10 kilometers from Vodnjan, which makes it easily accessible for those coming from that part of Istria. The drive between these two places takes approximately 10 minutes, making for an easy day trip or weekend visit. Svetvinčenat is about 20 kilometers from Pula, the largest city in Istria and one of the main cultural centers of the region. The journey from Pula to Svetvinčenat takes approximately 30 minutes by car, which allows easy access for many tourists who want to explore the interior of Istria and enjoy the peaceful and authentic Istrian ambience. Svetvinčenat offers a perfect combination of historical sights, cultural events and natural beauty, making it an ideal destination for all those who want to experience the real Istria.
