Description

Description: Kaiser Immobilien presents a beautiful building plot in a very popular location near the small Istrian town of Višnjan. The land has a regular square shape, is located on the edge of the village and has an asphalted access road. The specificity of this land is that the land has a unique view of the sea, and it is probably the last one for sale as such in that location. It is ideal for building a beautiful villa with its contents overlooking the sea. If you want this beautiful, attractive plot in an excellent position to become yours, contact your agent.
