Description

Description:	Island of Vis - eastern coast, we are selling a unique agricultural land covering an area of 23,453 m ² , consisting of three parts as a whole. An asphalt road divides the upper and lower parts of the land, making it even more desirable for island conditions due to access to the vineyard and grape transport. The lower part of the field is located in the valley, approximately 10,000 m ² in size, and consists of Plavac Mali vineyards on sandy soil. Along the road, there is a water supply with a paid connection, and electricity is nearby. Another part, on a slope, features a rough gravel road that passes through upper vineyards adorned in an old-fashioned way with manually built dry stone walls, all the way to a legalized stone house of 24m2 and a 16m2 cistern in front of it ready for reconstruction. Both buildings have obtained an occupancy permit. Alongside the road is an authentic concrete pool for collecting black and white grapes, preserved as a monument to times past and the way of life on the island. In that area, there is approximately 5000m2 of land suitable for planting figs or olives. At the end of the second part is a path that ascends to an elevated plateau with another vineyard, alongside grapevines and about thirty olive trees, with views extending to the islands of Hvar, Korčula, and on exceptionally clear days, to Palagruža. Sandy beaches Stončica and Smokova are nearby, as well as the town of Milna, 2 km away, with well-known and diverse beaches in the southern part of the island. The town of Vis is approximately 4 km away. The property is attractive with great potential for further investment and expansion of vine cultivation, located in the Tihobraće field. There are only six fields on the island of Vis where the grape is called Plavac Mali Specijal, from which, in better years, wine with an alcohol content of 15-16% of exceptional quality and character can be produced. The existing vineyards of about 4,500 vines are registered and carefully maintained in organic production, which has involved additional effort, work, knowledge, and human potential over the years.
