Description

Description:	Only in Dogma! We've just received an impressive building plot spanning 2357 square meters in Banjole, situated a mere 150 meters from the enchanting Adriatic Sea. This land is truly a rarity, with access roads on both sides, offering extraordinary flexibility and creative planning possibilities. All the necessary infrastructure resources are within easy reach, just about 60 meters away, with sewage facilities located a few meters from the plot. What makes this offer even more enticing is the fact that Banjole is steadily gaining recognition as a desirable tourist destination in Istria. This land presents an ideal opportunity for investors looking to capitalize on the growing popularity of this area. According to the spatial plan, it falls within the construction area designated for tourism and hospitality purposes (T2). This means you have the chance to shape a haven for relaxation, build vacation homes, luxurious apartments, or elegant hotels, with the possibility of accompanying amenities for service, hospitality, recreation, and entertainment. Banjole is a charming fishing and tourist village in the Istrian County of Croatia. Nestled at the southern tip of the Istrian Peninsula between the picturesque Soline and Paltana bays, it administratively belongs to the town of Medulin and is just 8 kilometers away from the city of Pula. The village is home to around 1000 residents, traditionally engaged in agriculture and fishing, and more recently, tourism. Many of them offer high-quality private accommodation in
