Description

Description:

At the foot of Motovun, the mythical Jason and Argonauts sailed on the river Mirna, and the first inhabitants who left traces inhabited this area between 3500 and 2200 BC. Kr. The first mention of the town of Motovun can be found in a document from 804, and after a century of German and Aquileian patriarch Motovun in 1278 asked Venice to accept it under his rule and under which he remained until 1797. During the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy in this area cultivated wood for shipbuilding. And so during the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy this beauty was built in the middle of the 19th century and completely reconstructed in 2015. Villa 260 m² extends over three floors, the ground floor, first floor and attic. On the ground floor there is a living room with kitchen and dining area, a wine shop 5 m² and one toilet. On the first floor there is a storage room which is essentially a laundry room and two bedrooms each with its own bathroom and a terrace with a beautiful view of Motovun. On the second floor there are two bedrooms with private bathrooms and terraces overlooking the breathtaking Motovun and the surrounding vineyards. The house has central solar heating installed, and each bedroom has its own Daikin air conditioner. The floors are quality Italian ceramics and oak parquet. The windows are wooden. The villa has very good insulation 8 cm styrofoam lined on the inside of the wall which is made of stone 60 cm wide which represents a significant energy saving for space heating. On the ground floor there is also an engine room where the boiler has a capacity of 1000 liters of hot water which is heated by solar panels and the first phase of pool water heating has been made. In the fenced yard of 998 m², the central place is occupied by the overflow pool 40 m² made with the PebbleTec technique with Roman stairs. Next to the pool there is a pool house with pool technology, sauna and bathroom, a covered terrace with garden furniture and a stone barbecue. Within the garden is parking for four vehicles. The villa is completely decorated with modern furniture from famous Italian manufacturers. This property is located in a secluded area surrounded by vineyards and greenery and is ideal for those looking for a holiday in nature and silence away from the city crowds. ID CODE: 10903
