Description

Description:	ISTRIA, BALE - Land with building permit One of the most beautiful Istrian jewels is the small town of Bale located on the western coast of Istria. This historic stone town is built on a hill surrounded by olive groves and vineyards, and is 5 kilometers from the sea and an untouched coast. The 45th parallel passes through the municipality of Bale, that is, its southernmost part, which means that it is in the most ideal place - halfway between the Equator and the North Pole. The average annual temperature in Bale is 14 degrees Celsius, and they record an average of 2,400 sunny hours per year. In the vicinity of that picturesque Istrian medieval town, there is a plot of land for sale with a building permit. The micro-location offers an authentic experience of a small Istrian town, intimacy and a break from the noise, and at the same time proximity to the dynamic cities of Istria with a range of amenities. The cadastral plot is relatively rectangular in shape, the terrain is very gently sloping, and the power, water and electronic communication infrastructure is located near the land. The land has a valid building permit for the construction of a residential building, which does not disturb the environment with its architecture, but creates a synergy of the natural environment and modern

design. It was designed as a semi-detached house with two residential units that extends through the ground floor and first floor. Due to its microlocation, configuration, proper ownership and documentation, this land offers an exceptional opportunity for construction.
